Game Show USA

About our Play

This year, the United States will celebrate its 250th birthday—also called the Semiquincentennial! That means it's been 250 years since the Declaration of Independence was signed in 1776, when America officially became its own country.

Learning about American history helps us understand where we came from, how we grew as a country, and the people who helped shape our freedom. It teaches us about important events, brave leaders, and how we can make our country even better in the future. Just like we celebrate our own birthdays, the USA's birthday is a time to look back, learn, and celebrate together!

Join us for this delightfully wacky game show, where you'll test your knowledge of all things USA, from the earliest origins, all the way to present day!

NUMBERS TO REMEMBER

- The United States of America celebrated their 239th Anniversary of declaring their independence from Britain in 1776!
- Abraham Lincoln was the 16th President of the US who ended the Civil War. He was assassinated 5 days later!
- United States of America's flag contains 50 stars to represent all the US States and 13 stripes to represent the original colonies. !
- Franklin D. Roosevelt was the 32nd President of the United States and held his presidency for the longest time, from 1933 to 1945, 12 years = 3 terms!!

The first dollar bills issued in the USA were in 1862. The current design for our one dollar bill was created in 1963, featuring a painting of George Washington, the first President of the United States of America!

The US Constitution is our country's document that embodies the laws and principals by which we are governed, written in 1787.

Student Activities

Create Your Own Play! This activity incorporates creative thinking, knowledge of the USA, writing and performance!

- 1). Break students into small groups. Have each group develop a short play from other events in US history that they have studied this year. Some ideas could be: George Washington becoming president, expeditions to explore the Western United States, key moments in the civil rights movement, or events specific to your state's history!
- 2). Discuss all the things that make a play possible. Have each group think about how costumes, props, and the set could help bring their new story to life. If there's time, try to create some of these props or costume pieces from everyday items!
- 3) Have each group think about and practice how the people in their story move and talk. Voila! The beginning steps of performing a play have been accomplished. This is the same work our actors do when preparing for a role in a play.
- 4) Time for performance! Have each group perform their short play. Remind the other students about being good audience members while they watch their friends onstage!

Design a Flag!

This activity incorporates creative thinking, visual arts, and writing!

- 1) Have students pull out paper and crayons or colored pencils.
- 2) Create a personal flag that includes pictures or symbols of things that are important to you. Be creative!
- 3) Have each student create a new flag for the USA. Have them write a short description of the flag they have drawn. Talk about why the student made his/her specific choices.

DISCUSSION QUESTIONS

1. What are the 3 branches of government and what is the purpose of each of them?
2. How does the election process work? Is anyone allowed to run for office?
3. Why is it important to vote? Does your vote really make a difference?
4. What are things the government decides? Are there things they shouldn't decide?
5. What is the point of having a government at all? What does a government do that makes a difference for our country?

Branches of US Government!

This activity incorporates visual arts, writing, and association.

- 1) Have students draw a tree with 1 big trunk labeled Constitution.
- 2) Above the trunk, 3 branches should shoot out and be labeled Judicial, Executive, & Legislative.
- 3) The students can continue to draw branches that label the offices within the branches of government.
- 4) When the students have drawn all their branches they can start writing the specific jobs that each office in each branch is responsible for.
- 5) Discuss with your class how the system of Checks and Balances work, you can also quiz them after all the drawings are finished!

US Government Key Terms

Before, During and After the Play...

YOU CAN DO THIS TOO!

Where to start: All of our actors started out playing and telling stories when they were young - then they decided to study acting in school. Now they are pros! Here are some ways you can start doing theatre right away!

In School! Does your school have plays or musical performances? This is a great place to start.

In Your Community! Many towns have community theaters or local acting groups. See if you can try out!

Start Something! If your school doesn't have a drama club or a theatre club, talk to your favorite teacher about how you might be able to start one.

At Home! Get together with friends, cousins, brothers and sisters and make your own play. You can make up plays based on your favorite books and stories. Invite family and friends to see your performance.

Try your best at new things! There are lots of jobs in the theatre besides acting. There are people who paint the sets, make costumes, write plays and more. Get the most out of your art, music and English classes & you could be a theatre pro!

BEFORE YOU SEE THE PLAY...

Attending the theatre is very different from watching TV or going to the movies. For one thing, the actors are real people who are performing right then and there. They can see and hear everything that happens in the audience. Because of this, YOU are an important part of the play and it's important to do your job as an audience member well. Here are some tips before you see the play.

1. Please be quiet and respectful so everyone else around you can hear and see what is happening on stage and so the actors can do their job.
2. The actors may ask you to participate. Don't be afraid to respond, ask a question or volunteer!
3. Keep your hands to yourself and your eyes up front.
4. If you like the play, be sure to clap at the end.
5. Have fun! Enjoy yourself!

After seeing the Play...

Write your own review of the play! A review is a way of telling your thoughts about a play, movie or book. Consider the following when you are writing your review.

What was your favorite part? Who was your favorite character? Can you summarize the play in your own words? If you had written this play, would you have done anything different? Would you recommend this play to a friend? Name one new thing you learned from watching this play!

FUN FACTS ABOUT THEATRE!

After a play is over and everyone goes home, there is always a light left on backstage. It's called a ghost light!

The oldest play that is still around was written by an Ancient Greek named Aeschylus. It's almost 2500 years old!

The longest performance on stage ever was over 23 hours long! It happened in New Jersey in 2010.

William Shakespeare is a famous playwright. He wrote 37 plays and is still quoted by many people. There are 157 million google pages that mention him--the most of any famous person ever!

In theatre, it's considered bad luck to tell an actor, "Good luck" before a performance. Instead, you're supposed to say, "Break a leg!"

Ancient Greek audiences stamped their feet rather than clapping their hands to applaud.

Everything about the Theatre!

A mini-van is our hip and favored mode of transportation for touring the country!

... THEATRE VOCABULARY!

ABOUT US!

Founded in 2003, Bright Star Theatre tours the nation offering high quality, affordable programs to every imaginable venue. We've had countless engagements at the National Theatre, Toured to Moscow and are so grateful to be in your very school today!

Costumes: The wigs, clothing and glasses that the actors wore to help flush out their characters .

Auditions: How an actor gets a role is by auditioning, they may have to interview, pretend to be a character from the play, read something from it, etc.

Set Designer: The person who decided what should be on the background and who painted or created it.

Were there other terms that came up in the show or from the experience of seeing the live play that you'd like to learn more about?

The Process of a Play:

1. Actors audition 2. Directors cast the show (that means they choose actors) 3. The directors and actors rehearse the play (that means they practice it). 4. A team of people works on building the set, costumes and props. 5. The play opens (that means it is performed for the first time)!
